

How To Play

Baccarat is a simple game and is more dependent on luck than on skill. Although the game seems serious and elegant, it is as simple as betting on the flip of a coin.

Baccarat is played with eight (8) decks. Players place a wager on either the Banker or Player bet positions. The winning position is determined by the highest score closest to nine (9) on either the Banker or the Player positions. Aces are worth one (1); Tens, Jacks, Queens and Kings are all worth zero (0) all other cards are worth the face value.

Place a wager on either the Player bet position or the Banker bet position. Wagers can also be placed on the Tie bet position where you are betting that the Banker and the Player hands will be a Tie. You can also bet on a Banker Pair or a Player Pair, which means that you are betting that the Banker or the Player cards will have a pair.

The game starts with two cards dealt to the Player and Banker positions. If the total value of the cards is more than Ten, the right digit of the total is used as the total value for the hand. If either the Player or the Banker has a total of 8 or 9 on the initial cards dealt (a Natural), they both stand and no additional cards are dealt.

Third Card Rules

The following Baccarat rule chart governs when the Player and/or the Banker will automatically be dealt a third card in the game. However, if either the Player and/or Banker have a total of 8 or 9, they both stand. This rule overrides all other rules.

Point value of the first 2 cards:
0 - 1 - 2 - 3 - 4 - 5	Draws a card
6 - 7	Stands
8 - 9	"Natural hand", no further draw.

For the Banker:

Point value of the first 2 cards:	Draws when the player's 3rd card value is:	Does not draw when the player's 3rd card value is:
